Supervisors Vote Increase Of 10 Per Cent in Pay to Employees of Ulster County

Wage Boost to Be Given Through Bonus Plan; Vacations and Sick Leave Granted

Supervisors $800

Fox Rabies and Airport Among Other Matters on Friday Agenda

Practically all county employees, exclusive of those holding elective offices, have been granted a 10 per cent increase in pay for 1948 through an increase in the "cost of living" bonus from 25 per cent to 35 per cent and all county employees are granted a three weeks vacation and 12 days annual sick leave. The sick leave is cumulative to 48 days. The increase was voted by the Board of Supervisors Friday evening following the presentation of the report of the Committee on Salaries.

The pay of supervisors was also increased from $600 to $800 and payment for committee work was abolished. The chairman of the Board will receive an annual salary of $1,100, the additional $300 being granted as extra compensation for the additional work which must be done by the chairman. An allowance of eight cents per mile for travel each way in attending meetings is also granted to all supervisors. In addition actual expenses incident to attending meetings will be paid.

Write Appreciation Letter
Employees working by the day in the Highway Department will probably be granted a 10 cent an hour increase in pay later and will also be given the vacation pay and sick leave benefits and be placed under Unemployment Compensation, as predicted several days ago following a meeting of the Labor Relations Committee of the Board with highway employees. A letter of appreciation was received from representatives of the Highway Department and read in which the group expressed its appreciation of the courteous treatment which the delegation received when it met with the Labor Relations Committee. The letter was read and filed.

The action taken by the Board Friday evening means practically a 10 per cent increase in the salary appropriation. No estimate of the total increase was available. In addition the Board also adopted a schedule of salaries of the various workers in the Welfare Department for 1948.

A communication was received from William W. Kobelt, manager of the New Paltz Airport, stating he was interested in leasing the Gadsden Airport which the county is looking over from the Government. This was the second offer relative to leasing the airport which is located near Gardiner. The communication was referred and referred to the committee on Post War Planning.

Bathrope Are Serious
Dr. George James, Ulster County Commissioner of Health, sent a communication calling attention of the Board to the seriousness of the fox rabies situation. Dr. James stated that there was already a quarantining on rabies in Sullivan, Delaware and Schoharie counties and the danger line was growing close to Ulster county. If this quarantine barrier is broken and rabies is discovered in foxes in Ulster county it will mean Ulster county will be added to the list and all dogs will have to be vaccinated. This will cost at least $6,000, one-half of which will be paid by the state. Dr. James called attention to the seriousness of the situation and said that the danger to animals from infection from foxes was great. While animals and cattle were seriously threatened by rabid foxes, they did not constitute a serious men-

Six New Firemen Appointed Friday

Schuman Pleads for Power to Crack Down on Red Forces Strangling Whole Nation

War Veterans to Assume Duties January 1; No Salary Talk

The Board of Fire Commissioners, Friday afternoon, appointed six men to the Kingston Paid Fire Department as firemen, to assume their duties on January 1. The commissioners chose the men in the order submitted on the eligibility list. The men appointed, all of whom are veterans of World War 2, are:

Louis J. Varga, 511 Albany avenue;

George T. McKeon, 496 Albany avenue;

Howard S. Whitaker, 184 Hurley avenue;

Edward G. Albrecht, 9 Green street;

James L. McElrath, 504 Wilbur avenue;

Robert L. Maines, 42 Fair street.

The remaining two men on the list of eight submitted as being eligible are automatically raised to top positions on the list. They are Harry L. Sills, 74 Hoffman street, and Carl C. Janasiewicz, 376 Hasbrouck avenue.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, secretary of the Board of Fire Commissioners, said today that the matter of salary increases was not discussed at the meeting. He said, however, that the board would meet again within 10 or 15 days to prepare the budget for 1948, and he expects that salary increases will be included in this budget, which will be submitted to the mayor in December.

Wage-Hour Hearing Due

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—The wage and hour division of the Labor Department will start public hearings December 2 on proposed revisions in "white collar" employee exemptions from the wage-hour act. Regulations adopted in 1940 established "tests" to determine what workers are not covered by the minimum wage and overtime provisions of the law. Mainly affected are those in executive, administrative, professional, outside salesmen, and local retailing positions. The tests include size of salary, ranging from $30 a week to $200 a month for various jobs.

O'Dwyer Orders Appeal

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—The city rent commission, acting under instructions from Mayor William O'Dwyer, prepared today to appeal a New York Supreme Court decision holding invalid the eviction provision of the city's rent control law. The provision, which makes evictions possible only after certification by the commission, was ruled invalid in a decision handed down Tuesday by Supreme Court Justice Meier Steinbeck.

Yesterday, O'Dwyer instructed the commission to take immediate steps to appeal the ruling.

G.O.P. Leader Dies

Montour Falls, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—E. J. Lowman, 65, a Schuyler county Republican leader and former mayor of Montour Falls, died yesterday. He was a brother of the late Seymour Lowman, one-time lieutenant governor of New York.

Bitter U. N. Struggle Over Palestine Split Wide Open

By MAX HARRELSON

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—The bitter fight over the "Soviet-American" plan to partition Palestine was split wide open today as a result of Colombia's surprise move of yesterday to defeat final United Nations action until next spring.

As the United Nations assembly was called back into session set for 4 p.m. (EST), after a 24-hour recess, Colombian delegate Dr. Alonso Lopez was reported to have lined up strong support, including the Arab-led anti-Particularists, for his plan of de-territorialization.

The Arab countries met secretly last night and were slated to meet again before the assembly convened this afternoon. One informed source said the Arabs had decided not to take "too stiff" an attitude in the problem but that they had not yet decided whether to offer a proposal on their own account.

This was taken as evidence of an apparent move by the Arabs to be more open to conciliation. Heretofore they have been adamant against any proposal except their demand for a single independent Arabic nation in the Holy Land.

The Colombian proposal for de-territorialization was laid before the assembly late yesterday at Flushing Meadow Park when most delegations thought they were finally at the point of voting on the particular plan. Assembly president Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil already had predicted semi-private that partition would be approved.

Action on both the Colombian proposal and the partition plan was then side-tracked when the assembly approved a surprise French motion for a 24-hour recess so that a final effort at conciliation could be made between Arab anti-Particularists and Zionists favoring a pattern for the Holy Land that would establish Jewish and Arab nations.

Just how seriously the problem was complicated by the Colombian move could not be ascertained immediately. Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin said it would not diminish the chances of the partition plan being accepted. One high C.N. official, on the other hand, expressed a belief that the move had killed all chances of partition being approved at this assembly session, which has been running since September 16.

Delegates generally agreed that the Colombian proposal would result in a procedural wrangle as to whether this new measure should get voting priority over the partition plan.

Police Place Policy Slip Count Against Man Held in Jail

A charge of possessing so-called "policy" slips used in gambling was placed against Peter Johnson, 84, Bruyn avenue, Friday, after police inspected his automobile and allegedly found several books of the slips in the car.

Johnson had been brought to the city hall to face charges of second degree assault on complaint of Edward Ferrey, R.F.D. 3, Kingston, who claimed to have been beaten by Johnson. While he was being held in the detention cell in city court, police searched the automobile, after which police officers placed the additional charge against him.

Arraigned before City Judge Matthew V. Cahill on Friday, Johnson was released on $1,500 bail, and his case adjourned until December 2.

Home Again

VALDA E. WINCHELL

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—Valda E. Winchell, 20-year-old daughter of Walter Winchell, who had been missing since she was reported missing Wednesday, was back home today. Ernest Cuneo, attorney for the Winchell family announced Cuneo, who asked the Missing Persons Bureau of the police department to cancel the alarm for Miss Winchell, declared she had been "visiting friends" and was "back home again." He did not elaborate.

The assembly's committee on civil and criminal law immediately approved the government bills, 26 to 13, and sent them to the assembly, which is expected to consider them later in the day.

Approval would give the government a weapon against newspapers encouraging the strikes, which have made more than 2,000,000 French workers idle.

Would Dismiss Guilty

Government employees found guilty of "agitation" would be dismissed under the measures. Key industries, including electric power, railroads, and wire communications, are nationalized and their employees work for the government.

The powers asked by Schuman would run from tomorrow until May 31, 1948.

The proposed law provides six months' to five years' imprisonment and fines of $3,000 to $50,000 francs ($8 to $4,000) for those who use violence to bring about a cessation of work.

It stipulates that whoever "by means of cries, statements, threats, printed writings, placards, posters or tracts" either "advises, provokes or approves" such acts may be punished as an accomplice. Under French legal practice, punishment for accomplices probably would be milder than those actually charged with sabotage.

Robert L. Craft Hailed as New Conductor Following Debut with Chamber Art Society

Robert L. Craft, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Craft of 41 Johnston avenue, made his professional debut Wednesday evening conducting the Chamber Art Society orchestra at the Hunter College Playhouse.

The New York Herald Tribune hailed him as a new conductor in the following release:

"Robert L. Craft, a conductor of the new generation, not only in age but in musical attitude, made his professional debut last night at the first concert of his Chamber Art Society, a very welcome organization, at the Hunter College Playhouse. One is so accustomed to young men who come out of conservatories indoctrinated in outmoded interests, which become petrified as part of routine training, that it was a delight to hear this chamber orchestral program, devoted to choice works that express the most discriminating tastes of our time."

It was a distinguished and balanced program.

"A highly gifted musician in his early twenties . . . the level-headedness he maintained was a welcome prop, and it was a tribute to so young a conductor that he got through such very difficult scores without catastrophe. One often hears a score like 'Dumbarton Oaks' disintegrate into near-pandemonium; that it was gratifying to apprehend its contours, its extraordinary delineation and the superimposed syncopations which ultimately get the upper hand. Mr. Craft knows his scores, and he has sound musicianship," A. V. B.

Among the patrons of the Chamber Art Society are Dr. Serge Koussevitsky, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and Igor Stravinsky, distinguished composer who will be guest conductor at the April program.

Following the concert a reception for over 100 guests was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Meyer, 49 West 57th street, New York city.

Selections on the program played under Mr. Craft's direction were "Brandenburg Concerto No. 2 in F" Bach; "Serenade No. 12 in C Minor" (K. 388); Mozart; "Concerto in E Flat (Dumbarton Oaks)" . . . and "Histoire du Soldat," both by Stravinsky.

Highland Couple Given Housewarming Party

Rules Base a 'Possession'

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—The U. S. military base at Bermuda, leased for 99 years from Great Britain, is in effect a United States "possession," the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled. In its ruling yesterday reversed a Federal Court order dismissing a suit for some $50,000 in overtime compensation claimed by 11 employees of three contracting companies operating at the Bermuda base.

The girls from the Academy in the Annunciation pantomime were the Misses Virginia Kenny, June Amato, Betty Anne Flynn, Mary O'Reilly, Joan Stauble, Mary Ruth Tellier, Joan Van Gonic, Alice Mary Ambrose; and in the Choral Triptych, the Misses Virginia Kenny, Louise Cordts, Nancy Crowley, Mary Anne Dwyer, Joan McCord, Ann O'Reilly, Mary Ruth Tellier and Joan Van Gonic.

GREAT LANGUAGE

There has naturally developed a considerable argument in this country over the casual incident in which a linguist in a German newspaper offered to teach the English language in two months, or the American in three months. In a way, this might be taken as a compliment, indicating the superior quality and the difficulty of the American system. But it seems unlikely that any well-educated American would exhibit much pride in the superior effectiveness of our American slang.

As matters stand, with the very considerable inter-mixture of British and American speech during the war and since, there is much room for argument along many lines—mostly, perhaps, to the disadvantage of the "King's English," and the disadvantage of what is apt to be called over here "Harvard English".

Probably either of these modes of speech has, on the average, about as much merit as the other. But it would be illuminating, and perhaps generally beneficial, to take up

The United Nations is not entirely what it was cracked up to be, but there's life in the old girl yet.

SLEEPING AND WALKING

If some calamity hit a family, such as wartime bombing or enemy confiscation of property, what would be the basic essentials first sought in reestablishing normal living? According to a questionnaire sent to 1,800 of the nation's physicians, the answer is a bed first and shoes next. The doctors pointed out that we spend a third of our lives in bed, the rest of it in shoes. Incidentally the survey, by a national association of bedding manufacturers, revealed that there are 86 million beds in these United States. And most of them, at least 90 per cent, are too soft? Mattresses should be firm because otherwise the spine slips out of place and backaches follow, say the doctors.

The moral of the tale, which will please both bedding firms and shoe makers, is that beds and shoes should be comfortable. It's more important to have these two items right than it is to have a new refrigerator in the kitchen, or a new look to mother's clothes.

If Britain, as reported, is losing her "incentive to work and save", she'd better take a brace before she goes under permanently.

NO JOKE, NO SPEECH

"Don't begin a speech with a funny story", says the lecturer James T. Mangan; "it will bore your audience".

This is about as upsetting advice as can be imagined. It nips the foundation out from under American after-dinner oratory. It is inconceivable that any speaker should not lead off with the story of Pat and Mike, or the driver along a Southern road who came across a Negro beating a mule with a fence-rail. If after-dinner speakers could not get started with a funny story, they might never get started at all.

On second thoughts this might be a rather good idea.

One reason for the increasing number of presidential candidates may be the advantage, if elected, of being able to count on occupying the same house for four years.

This is the first time in many years that an international conflict of interests has taken place without the question being asked, "What will Germany do?"

Some of those fellows at Washington seem to hanker for paying our national debts, but isn't that very irregular?

RETURN TO BALTIMORE

St. Louis is making trouble again—not for the nation, but for baseball. The American League team has always had poor attendance, it finished last in the recent season, and now it is selling off its few good players. This means small crowds for the other teams when they play St. Louis, either at home or away. They would like to transfer the franchise to some other city.

Los Angeles has for years been clamoring for big league baseball, but the distance is

DO THEY WANT LOW PRICES?

The current boom, stimulated by an inflationary tendency, is favored by the Administration because it benefits them politically. Everybody is at work. Everybody has money in the pocket. Prices are high, but the people can pay for what they want. There is grumbling but no real dissatisfaction. Any lowering of prices would develop fears that the depression, which the Russians and Henry Wallace have regarded as "inevitable," has actually arrived.

Therefore, the Administration keeps prices high and shouts against the inflation. They act one way and talk another. The President's Ten-Point Program was a talking matter; not a single step has been taken to implement it, in spite of the fact that the President possesses ample powers to curb the inflation in many directions—certainly in reducing the amount of money in circulation.

Marriner Eccles, for instance, proposed that bank credits be limited, a step that would, if properly handled, lessen the inflation. As a matter of fact, sound bankers have for some time been conservative in granting credits, particularly consumers credits, but they ought to increase loans for productive purposes as opposed to speculation. When a loan is made, that adds nothing to the general welfare but merely gives an individual opportunity to gamble in an inflationary market, it is not sound to assist him.

John Snyder, Secretary of the Treasury, who more closely represents the Administration than does Marriner Eccles, opposed Eccles' proposals for limiting bank credits. When Eccles insisted upon limiting government expenditures, he hit the Administration more fiercely than even Senators Taft or Byrd have, for he, being in the family, even as a leftover, knows what the canker of government spending is upon the body politic. This Administration means to spend more and more between now and Election Day on the Al Smith formula, "No body shoots Santa Claus," which Harry Hopkins turned into a political gold mine.

Again in the matter of conserving food supplies, the Administration talks one way and acts another. The Luckman dramatization is, of course, finished and never was needed. Nothing was actually saved by it. Yet, there was something that both Luckman and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson could have done and did not do. A very bad practice exists in the baking industry which is unnecessary, wasteful and serves no purpose, but grew up in the competition for retail outlets; that is, the over-stocking of bread in groceries and the acceptance of returns by bakers. Those returns of old bread are ground up for feed, but a great waste is involved. The bakers would like to get away from the practice but dare not enter into an agreement lest the Department of Justice institute anti-trust proceedings against them.

It certainly ought to be possible for the bakers, the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Justice, and the White House to work out a procedure for ending this wasteful practice at a time when grain is so sorely needed without the bankers taking additional risk of an anti-trust suit. But the Administration does nothing and the practice continues. Incidentally, the Secretary of Agriculture says that he does not know any way to limit the weight of hogs and cattle—so how does he expect, by government controls, to limit the consumption of grain?

The fact is that the Administration is not willing to take a single step to lower prices, if such a step would antagonize a sufficiently large and vocal group, as for instance, the farmers, just as it has been unwilling to offend the labor leaders by supporting the extremely mild controls on the predatory padrone system of the labor supply.

In a word, the Administration wants to keep the prices high to satisfy those who benefit from high prices, and talk low prices to please consumers. And then they can always blame the Republicans in Congress for not doing what the Administration is, by the Constitution and the law, empowered to do. They want to keep the boom going by keeping prices high for political reasons, while they talk anti-inflation for economic reasons. They hope that this paradox will keep them in office. And it might.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

TREATMENT OF HIVES

Many individuals know from experience that if they eat certain foods they will have an attack of hives, and so they avoid those foods. However, sometimes one of the foods that causes hives will be combined with other foods to make up a certain dish—unknown to the patient—and hives occur.

In many cases no treatment is necessary, as the hives disappear in a short time. Where the hives are causing intense itching and persist for hours, the usual effective treatment is injecting a few minutes (drops) of adrenalin (epinephrine) under the skin.

A few weeks ago I wrote about the excellent results obtained in hives by the use of benadryl taken by mouth. This helps many cases of hay fever and asthma often caused by foods, furs, pollen of plants and other substances.

Recently in the "Journal of the American Medical Association," Drs. Paul A. O'Leary and Eugene M. Farber, Mayo Clinic, reviewed the history of a number of acute and chronic cases of hives, or urticaria, as it is known to the medical profession. They report that in cases which have hitherto lasted for days the itching is relieved in 20 to 60 minutes, and the swelling disappears in from two to six hours.

Benadryl was taken by mouth by 35 patients with acute urticaria in doses of 50 to 100 milligrams every three or four hours. Twenty of these patients were completely relieved in from one to two days; the condition of 12 was improved (less itching and less swelling), and three patients were not benefited. Reactions occurred in 10 of the 35 patients, but were not severe enough to cause benadryl to be stopped.

Chronic urticaria always has been difficult to cure, but in the experience of these two physicians benadryl gives better results than any other single drug. Of 75 patients treated, 48 were entirely relieved when taking benadryl, 17 had fewer hives and less itching, and 10 obtained no benefit.

These results are gratifying, but patients should not take benadryl without the supervision of their physician because of the reactions which sometimes occur.

great. Also there would be objections from the other teams of the Pacific Coast League.

Now another candidate is suggested Baltimore. For nearly 50 years Baltimore has been in the International League, but before that it had famous teams in the old 12-club National League. The Baltimore Orioles of the '90's are still remembered for their daring play, and for the managers like McGraw, Jennings and Robinson that they developed. If Washington, only 40 miles away, does not object, Baltimore may yet return to the big leagues. But that is a big "if".

Predicament on the 1948 Campaign Road

BILL OF RIGHTS

A campaign appears to be shaping up to inform the public and the wage earner about the benefits of the Taft-Hartley law.

Public polls showed not long ago that this measure had been the victim of "smear" at the hands of labor bosses who have lost some of their power under the new law.

The polls showed that a majority of wage earners did not understand the provisions of the law, and spoke of Taft-Hartley supporters as "labor baiters."

A union can no longer levy excessive assessments on its members.

U.S.A. or U.S.S.R.?

An employee cannot be discharged from his job by union demand except for non-payment of union dues, and then only under a union shop agreement.

An employee can demand a financial statement from his union.

An employee cannot be forced by his union to work slower or do less work than he desires.

An employee cannot be called out on strike, with loss of pay, in sympathy with some labor dispute of the union against another employer or another union.

All these and many more specific benefits restore to the wage earner a measure of the freedom he had before the advent of the huge power pyramids called unions.

Reading this list, we cannot help being struck by the similarity of our New Deal regulations to that of Soviet Russia. Such a list sounds more like a counter-revolution in the U.S.S.R. than in the U.S.A.

As employers and the more assertive of the independent labor leaders continue to blow away the smoke screen laid down by union propagandists, we may expect increasing support in the ranks of labor for the new measure.

C.I.O. and A.F.L. bigwigs are losing face, partly because their dues payers are now seeing through their duplicity.

The employer pamphlet continues:

"An employee can now take up a grievance directly with the company without first asking the union.

"Employees can oust union by

Should there be an outbreak of rabies from foxes all dogs in the county would have to be vaccinated. When 70 per cent of the dogs are vaccinated, then dogs which have been immunized would be allowed to run loose, but dogs which have not been vaccinated will have to be tied up or confined.

The communication was filed.

Frank McCordle, commissioner of jurors, asked that $300 be appropriated for part time clerical hire in the office since the position of full time deputy was being abolished. The communication was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Ask $1,000 for Game

A communication was received from the Committee on Propagation of Game, Game Birds and Fish in which an appropriation of $1,000 for 1948 was asked. The committee reported that a pheasant farm was to be operated from funds already appropriated. The feed will be provided by the Sportsmen's Federation and care of the pheasants will be done by help from the Wallkill Prison. The farm is to be located at Wallkill. The committee recommended that the first year's appropriation be used for the pheasant work, the second year the appropriation be used for fish planting and the third year small game be included in the program. There is a balance of $691 in the fund now which has been set aside for rearing pens for pheasants. Filed.

Bids for printing the Board of Supervisor proceedings were received and the contract awarded to The Freeman Publishing Company, the only bidder at $3.84 per page.

Gratien Taken Back to Syracuse

Charged With Stealing Auto Which Was in Newburgh Crash

Ernest Gratien, 17, of 14 West Brighton street, Syracuse, who allegedly stole a car in Syracuse on November 22, drove east to pick up three companions, was in a collision at Newburgh with another car and arrested at Port Ewen by Corporal Arthur A. Reilly and Corporal Charles Austin last Wednesday evening, was taken back to Syracuse Friday evening.

The three now being held were not in company with Gratien when the car was stolen in Syracuse and the officials in that city consequently did not make any charge against the three men. The others are Norman Eaton of Binghamton, James Hanrahan of Schenectady and Leonard Woloch of Brooklyn. All four, police say have been confined at Children's Village because of former escapades. Eaton was discharged on the day he was picked up here.

He continued that he heard much criticism of the meters from the downtown sections of the city, and that the meter ordinance is not being enforced there. He said he did not think meters should be forced on the people in those areas where they do not want them.

Alderman Roth announced that his committee would prepare its recommendations for presentation to the Council at their next regular meeting on Tuesday, December 2.

Bad Manners Great Factor in Highway Accidents
It may be of interest to readers to reprint an interesting study of the relation between bad manners and accidents.

"Insurance companies figure their premiums on the basis of claims for accidents in any given locality. Thus, premiums are a kind of index to the stupidity, bad judgment, bad manners and bad temper of the local drivers."

"The owner of a particular car has driven automobiles since 1918 in nearly all the large and small cities of the northern United States. He has always carried insurance and never been involved in an accident (he knocks wood every time he mentions that); and the only money an insurance company ever paid him was $7.00 for garage storage after the police had recovered his stolen car."

"What this man and other careful drivers have been doing for years is paying for the damage and injuries done by careless and reckless drivers, precisely as home owners and business men pay for carelessly set fires and accidents."

"For a certain type of driver, no punishment of others, either by deprivation of driving license, repayment to the judgment fund, or even jail will deter him. He needs to be debarred before the accident; excluded from possession of a license by proper tests."

"The reason is that the great majority of automobile accidents are not caused by lack of skill, physical incapacity or handicaps of drivers, nor by failure of the car mechanism—the greatest percentage are due to ill-temper, gross bad manners, or bad judgment."

"Thus, the tests for drivers' licenses should while stressing physical condition and skill, give much more weight to the mental and psychological balance of the would-be driver. They should be based somewhat on the order of the Palhom tests given army recruits. Of these seven tests, five are for physical fitness for particular duties;
the sixth is for mental capacity, and the seventh for the degree of self-control and ability to repress emotion under stress."

"Such tests no doubt would au-tomatically bar out most of the drivers under 21 years of age—but what of it? One would im-

agine, judging by the insurance premiums, that from ten to twenty per cent of drivers would be put off the streets—especially the taxi and delivery rig drivers, until more emotionally stable persons were licensed for these duties."

"You're the first girl I ever kissed," said the engineer as he shifted gears with his knees.

"How was the scenery on your trip?"
"It ran largely to tooth-paste and smoking tobacco."

Maud—That story you told about Alice isn't worth repeating.

Kate—It's young yet; give it time.

Playing safe often leads to fall-ure.

The army sergeant, addressing a recruit, asked:

Sergeant—Did you shave this morning, Jones?

Recruit—Yes, sergeant.

Sergeant—Well, it's all right this time, but tomorrow morning see if you can't stand a little closer to the razor.

Three-fourths of the active volunteers of the world are in the

Crack Canadian Boxers Here Thursday

Ronnie LaCelle Leads Visitors Against New York State Aces

Kingston's amateur boxing fans were cheered today by the announcement that the crack Canadian boxing squad is scheduled for another appearance at the municipal auditorium on Thursday, December 4.

Heading the attractive card is a five rounder between Ronnie LaCelle, flashy Ontario 133-pounder, who decisively whipped Harold Morton, and Jim Byron, highly touted Brooklynite.

Byron also holds a decision over Morton in an upstate ring and is under the tutelage of Sam Morgan, well known New York boxing handier.

Scored Great Hit

The Canadians made a clean sweep of five bouts in their initial showing here and impressed the fistie mob with their great physical condition, fighting heart and aggressiveness. The fans clamored for an early return of the belters from above the border.

Joey Sandule, who trounced George Jackson, the capable Schenectady cloutier, is down for a five rounder against Harold Keys, the good looking Utica prospect.

Brown has never appeared here but his outstanding record which includes a decision over Jimmy Beau of Poughkeepsie, speaks for itself. This shapes up as the like-liest brawl on the card.

Douglas Roe, a 131-pounder who did not show with the first Canadian delegation, is carded against Vince Jackson, highly touted New Yorker. Jackson is one of the best amateur boxers in the metropolitan area while Roe's record carries the stamp of Canadian class and skill.

Emerson Slated

Barney Emerson, the popular local favorite who flashed greatly improved form in his recent split decision over Alex Ashby, is matched against Eric Senor, another Canadian newcomer.

The remainder of the card will be announced later.

Local Brit officials anticipate one of the largest crowds in recent months. The Canadian boxers won the hearts of local fans with their poise, skill and enthusiasm and the word has got around. The Canadians give you a show all the way and that's why there is every indication that the S.R.O. signs will go up Thursday night.

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, Nov. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Snyder of Poughkeepsie had dinner Thanksgiving Day with Mrs. Thomas Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Van Wagner had a family dinner party at their home Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Beach and children, Lee and Patricia, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gunse Beach on Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Ilia Steen is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Reuben Barrett.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Steen and family spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cox in Poughkeepsie.

Among those who attended the wedding in the Presbyterian Church in Livingston Manor on Thanksgiving Day of Miss Alberta Margaret Krom and Victor E. Shaver were: Mrs. Ebbie K. Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Krom, Mrs. LeRoy Krom, and Miss Gloria Lounsbury from here and Mr. and Mrs. James Krom, and daughter, Marilyn, of New Paltz; and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Eastman and daughter, Janet and Miss Phyllis Lints of Staatsburg. Mrs. Shaver is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krom.

Kelton E. Jansen, who is employed in Chicago, spent Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jansen, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lester of Walkill were also dinner guests at the Jansen home on Thanksgiving.

Miss Anita Abrahamsen, who is attending Rider College, is spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Abrahamsen. Donald Briggs of Cornell is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis Briggs. Miss Jane Briggs of Keuka College is also home.

The Misses Kate and Alice Krom are spending the Thanksgiving holidays at the Krom home.

Mrs. Ernest Jansen spent the first part of the week in Rochester where she attended a meeting of the House of Delegates of the New York State Teachers' Association. Mrs. William Larsen substituted for her at school.

Friends of Miss Mollie Smith, who was the primary teacher here some time ago, were grieved to hear of her death in Valley Stream, November 21.

The December meeting of the Mothers' Club will be held in the library of the school Monday afternoon, December 1, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Hamlin's room will entertain.

Will Meet Monday

The Officers Club, Order of Amaranth, will meet Monday, 8 p. m., at the home of Phyllis Buchanan.

Meeting Place Changed

The Mothers' Club of the Esopus School will meet in the schoolhouse Tuesday night instead of with Mrs. Violet Carboni in Kings-

Kingston Athletic Association Plans for Leahy Dinner

Bowling

Valley Keglers In 3 Matches

Kingston's Hudson Valley League bowling representatives falling steadily behind the pace setting Newburgh Shapins engaged in three matches Sunday, diminutive Flying Saucers lead-off piled up games of 219, 233 and 169 for one of his top performances of the season. Tom Amato shot 261-539, while F. Trevi posted 229-559. Other top scores were K. Miller 202-525; J. Roche 529; C. Corrado 518; R. Lehman 192-465; E. Achmuthy 1371; Philadelphia — Joey Fagan 1371; Philadelphia, outpointed George Neubeck, 141½, Baltimore, 8.

Hotaling Hits 612

Les Hotaling, Lab leadoff, showed his heels to the Hercules League pack last night, firing a 612 triple with games of 199, 222 and 191.

It was the only 600 in the circuit, but other good scores were turned in. Charlie Horne had a 205; Bob Hanley hit 541 with 199 high; Joe Dulin clicked 194-559; H. Harder 520; H. DuBois 504; Charlie Hervin, 196-572 and Joe Mannello reeled off 227-549.

Castor Has 611

George Castor, who has been somewhat dormant in the big scoring brackets this season, was on his way to a big triple in the Electoral circuit. That is until the last game.

Castor threw opening salvos of 223 and 234 but, alas, came a 134 finisher and the silver thatched thunder had to settle for 611, which is good rolling in any league.

Steve Woyden knocked off 220-551; D. Hornbeck, 198-511; H. Ellsworth, 183-527; Bud Evans, 201-580; Harry Re, 214-548; Nick Turek, 228-578; Bob Myers, 203-505; W. Schafer, 189-542; W. Short, 198-508; Joe Nerone, 501; Gordon Craig, Jr., 194-533.

San Diego Calif.—Bob Murphy, 157; San Diego, outpointed Art "Swede" Lind, 160, Minneapolis, 10.

Manchester, England — Freddie Mills, 176; London, outpointed Stephan Olek, 196, Paris, 10.

Worcester, Mass.—Young Tiger Flowers, 150; Worcester, outpointed Irish Billie Nellis, 151; Montreal, 8.

Hazelton, Pa.—Jimmy Hooper, 170; Brooklyn, outpointed Doc Bea, 179, Philadelphia, 8.

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

The Saddest Words of Man or Pen:

"Are these, they say . . . it might have been?" . . . Briefly that summarizes the 1947 DUSO football pennant chase. . . . The vagaries of sports are such, the human equations so changeable and the future so unpredictable that it's a hard load for eleven kids to carry. . . . We mean being tabbed as the "champions" before the opening salvo was fired and being looked upon with derision and contempt when they didn't murder the opposition.

It was a tough, rugged DUSO League . . . this illusive bizarre 1947 pennant scramble. . . . Nobody will ever convince us that Kingston wasn't the best club; but they are paying off on Port Jervis. . . . A Red and Black team that repelled Middletown in the closing minutes of one of the real donnybrooks in DUSO history.

All matches are scheduled for 9 p. m.

Lustborg smarting from a three-game upset in Saugerties last Sunday will be primed to get back in the pennant chase at the expense of Van Kleecks. . . . What happened after that was purely anti-climatic. . . . Kingston whipped Newburgh as expected and it was a magnificent accomplishment before the largest home gathering in K.H.S. history.

A valiant Middletown team pushed overrall Port Jervis all over the field but finished on the short end of a 9-6 score. . . . So another DUSO football season is placed in the lap of posterity.

A tumultuous campaign that won't be forgotten for many years to come.

Bagatelles:

From the press box, Kingston looked four touchdowns better than the Academicians. . . . The huge Newburgh crowd was another nail in the coffin to abolish the round robin system. . . . There weren't enough Newburgh adults to form a corporal's guard at the first Newburgh-Kingston game in the Hill City. . . . They were here in droves Thursday, proving that Kingston-Newburgh is strictly a one-game affair, on Turkey Day. . . . And just one more parting shot: With 5,000 home folks looking on, it would have been the supreme theatrical moment for the K.H.S. band to step out and do its stuff. . . . But, alas, it was the 60-piece Newburgh band that cut the cappers and did the serenading! . . . For heaven's sake, don't tell us that the 1947 K.H.S. band is representative of a school the size of Kingston-High!

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Joseph J. Magrino Jr., of Kingston, won a varsity football letter at Norwich University. . . . He is a sophomore. . . . Magrino's dad is the well known federal meat inspector. . . . New York boxing writers are apathetic over the impending Joe Louis-Joe Walcott slugs but foreign experts are pouring into New York for the spectacle. . . . Harry Markson says that boxing writers from papers in England, Australia, South America, Mexico, Canada, France, New Zealand, Sweden, Denmark and Italy will be present. . . . Bo Gill, saddened and chastened by K.H.S.'s thumping triumph over Newburgh, takes time out between pear shaped tears to announce that a $5,000 free-for-all race will be one of the added features when the 1948 Grand Circuit meeting is staged at Goshen's Historic Track next summer. . . . Poughkeepsie Indians thumped Irvington, N. J., 12-6 and are now readying for a return crack at the Hawthorne Cardinals who whacked them 24-0 in the first meeting. . . . Game is set for Sunday at Riverview Field.

Comparative Figures, Odious But Interesting:

When you stack the Colonial League (Class B) attendance figures against those of the Class D North Atlantic League, they suffer badly by comparison. However, the Colonial loop got off to a bad start, was rather hurriedly put together and suffered from a lack of adequate playing facilities and stadia. . . . When you compare Bridgeport's paltry 28,320 attendance against its population of 147,121, you find much food for future Colonial thought. . . . Waterbury with a pop. of 99,134 lured only 33,946 through the turnstiles. . . . Poughkeepsie led the pack with 43,403 and would have had more had the new lighting system been available at the start of the season.

Here are the figures:

Colonial League — Class B — 1940

	Pop.	Attendance
1. Poughkeepsie	40,478	48,402
2. Newburgh	99,134	33,946
3. Stamford	47,958	28,697
4. Bridgeport	147,121	28,320
5. New London	30,486	27,431
6. Port Chester	28,078	18,898

Kingston has been invited to enter a team in the proposed Hudson Valley Girls Basketball League. . . . Invitations have been extended to Middletown, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Highland Falls, Matamoras and Kingston. . . . That's putting screeching on a valley basis, we'd say.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: Did you hear about the mountain "wolf" the folks call "dry cleaner"? . . . He works fast and leaves no ring.

Weaver, Rienzo, Albany Among Ten Veterans Slated to Return

Season Starts On December 9

Mr. Basketball of the Hudson valley is perched precariously on that famous hot seat that sports writers, experts, oracles and non-descripts like to put a coach when he is supposed to have a pennant in the traditional burlap...even before the season starts.

Mr. Basketball, of course, being G. Warren Kias, of Kingston High, a name which strikes terror in the hearts of rival schools and coaches.

The astute Maroon cage coach has got himself a reputation. Everyone tells you that Kias is drilling daily with 10 seasons basketcooks for the opener on Tuesday, December 9, against Beacon High at the municipal auditorium. These ten surely are enough to meet any challenge elsewhere in the DUSO circuit. There is hardly a valid reason why the Kiasins should lose any games this season.

Veteran Squad

For instance, look at those crack forwards: Mike Rienzo, Ken Lowe as probable starters and Lafayette Halestein as sub, as good as any in the area.

In bridge it is not desirable to become known as a player who always can be counted upon to do things strictly according to formula. Very your style of bidding once in a while. False-card occasionally. In other words, keep your opponents guessing.

Of course one can carry this idea too far. Fred Kaplan of New York, one of the Life Masters, can really pitch some fast ones to his partner. One might think his aim at times was to torture his partner, but unquestionably he succeeds in getting opponents mixed up.

Today's hand came up at the Mayfair Bridge Club the other night. With nine spades and no diamonds, Kaplan opened the bidding with a diamond. His two-spade bid over two clubs was a reverse bid, showing a strong hand and forcing his partner to bid again.

He ran into a pretty good holding in the North hand, and when North refused to accept the sign-off of four spades and bid five clubs, Kaplan decided to gamble on the slam.

West made the one lead that would defeat the contract. Kaplan played a low heart from dummy.

East had no way to figure that Kaplan had nine spades and no diamonds. The ace of diamonds looked good to him and he decided that he could set the hand more than one trick. To keep a tenace position over the king of hearts, he played the ten-spot on the first trick. Kaplan won, led a club to dummy, cashing the ace, king and queen of clubs, and discarded his other heart on the third club.

He knew that West held the king of spades, as he would not have doubled without a trump trick. Kaplan's hope was that West did not hold three spades to the king. After trumping the third club trick, West came back with another heart, but it was too late. Kaplan trumped, laid down the ace of trumps, caught the king and spread the hand for the balance of the tricks.

Of course East should have gone up with the ace of hearts on the first trick. He knew that he had a chance to make the ace of hearts or the ace of diamonds, and that his partner must have a trump trick to justify a double of the slam contract.

Reader ServiceWhat Kind of House Is In Your Future?

Even if it's just paper planning, ask yourself the following questions about your future home.

Hush out the kinks now, discuss your ideas, needs and problems so that when the time comes to build, you can start right in.

How many rooms?

Have you allowed for expansion, for adding wings?

How many closets?

Do you want storage space in the cellar—or no cellar at all with the playroom and storage combined in the attic?

What about the comparative size of kitchen and dining room? Perhaps a formal dining room wouldn't be used much and a cheerful breakfast room and large kitchen would be more practical for your way of living.

Two story or one? Are there older people in the house who might tire easily from the stairs or toddlers who make stairs a constant threat to peace of mind?

All of these things must be considered.

See the floor plans and advantages of the four and five room homes in our Reader Service booklet No. 15. Porches, steps, windows illustrated.

Kiwanis Kapers Rehearsal

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

In bridge it is not desirable to become known as a player who always can be counted upon to do things strictly according to formula. Very your style of bidding once in a while. False-card occasionally. In other words, keep your opponents guessing.

Of course one can carry this idea too far. Fred Kaplan of New York, one of the Life Masters, can really pitch some fast ones to his partner. One might think his aim at times was to torture his partner, but unquestionably he succeeds in getting opponents mixed up.

Today's hand came up at the Mayfair Bridge Club the other night. With nine spades and no diamonds, Kaplan opened the bidding with a diamond. His two-spade bid over two clubs was a reverse bid, showing a strong hand and forcing his partner to bid again.

He ran into a pretty good holding in the North hand, and when North refused to accept the sign-off of four spades and bid five clubs, Kaplan decided to gamble on the slam.

West made the one lead that would defeat the contract. Kaplan played a low heart from dummy.

East had no way to figure that Kaplan had nine spades and no diamonds. The ace of diamonds looked good to him and he decided that he could set the hand more than one trick. To keep a tenace position over the king of hearts, he played the ten-spot on the first trick. Kaplan won, led a club to dummy, cashing the ace, king and queen of clubs, and discarded his other heart on the third club.

He knew that West held the king of spades, as he would not have doubled without a trump trick. Kaplan's hope was that West did not hold three spades to the king. After trumping the third club trick, West came back with another heart, but it was too late. Kaplan trumped, laid down the ace of trumps, caught the king and spread the hand for the balance of the tricks.

Of course East should have gone up with the ace of hearts on the first trick. He knew that he had a chance to make the ace of hearts or the ace of diamonds, and that his partner must have a trump trick to justify a double of the slam contract.

He knew that West held the king of spades, as he would not have doubled without a trump trick. Kaplan's hope was that West did not hold three spades to the king. After trumping the third club trick, West came back with another heart, but it was too late. SAUGERTIESVets May Enlist To Accompany War Dead From Depots

Saugerties, Nov. 28—Employers have been notified that all part-time workers in stores, shops and offices during the Christmas season are included in the coverage of Federal old age and survivors insurance program and therefore need social security cards.

Many of the girls of the local G.E. factory have been idle, the past week due to the lack of materials.

The Saugerties Drum Corps and Dick Thornton's Colonials have been engaged to furnish music for the opening night of the Christmas lighting celebration in this village. The drum corps will head the street parade and the orchestra will furnish music for dancing at the municipal auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knautz of West Camp were hosts at a dinner party at the Catskill Country Club last Friday evening. Guests were from Saugerties, West Camp and New York.

Mrs. Daniel Dorrian has returned home on South Partition street from the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital in New York where she had her left eye removed. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vozdik, her daughter and son-in-law conveyed her from the city here.

Dr. Guy F. Axell of Main street and Frank White of Finger street have returned from hunting trip in the Adirondacks.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, a former member of the Hill street school faculty was a recent guest of Miss Pauline Hommel on Bennett avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Perrine of Massachusetts and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perrine and son of Waltham, Mass., were recent guests of Peter Carnright and relatives in this village.

Mrs. Gladys Whipple of Portland, Ore., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leah on Partition street.

Miss Frances Maxwell of the Montgomery school faculty is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Clayton Maxwell on Jane street.

Mrs. Frank White, who has been visiting her relatives and friends at St. Regis Falls, has returned to her home in this village.

Mrs. Fabian Russell of this village is in charge of the Christmas Seals in the village and township of Saugerties this year. They are now on sale and are in the mails for delivery.

Thomas Buono of the Exchange Hotel on Main and Partition streets is having a new concrete walk made around the building.

The Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company has announced the starting of the new Christmas Club for 1948. Checks for the 1947 Club have been mailed to the tanks and credit out Venass's name.

Landers stepped forward promptly and Shirley let him out.

Landers stopped by the property room and picked up Venass's belongings—$5, a purse, cigarette lighter, and fountain pen. He left behind his own property, $1, a purse, and knife, and walked out of the jail house.

Yesterday afternoon, Jailer Bill Shirley got orders to release George Venass, 26, whose bond had been posted on a loitering charge. Shirley stepped to the tank and cried out Venass's name.

Landers stepped forward promptly and Shirley let him out.

Contributions are being received for the Christmas lighting of the village of Saugerties and many generous gifts have been received.

A Christmas program arranged by Mrs. John Gowen was presented at the recent meeting of the Saugerties Chapter D.A.R. at the residence of Mrs. Robert Freigh on Partition street. It was requested that clothing, sewing and supplies be left before December 4. These will be sent to Crossnore, North Carolina School approved by the N.S.D.A.R.

The Catskill Glee Club of over 50 male voices will present a concert in the First Congregational Church in this village, Monday evening, December 8, at 8:15 o'clock.

Roland Heermann of Elm street is the director and Miss Nolin of the Saugerties schools music department is the accompanist. A newly formed girls sextet of Saugerties and Catskill will render several selections.

The next meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post will be held Monday, December 1.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. William R. Brown of Route 2, at the Dale Sanitarium on Barclay Heights.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Woven of Saugerties at Dale's Sanitarium.

Seymour Tubby of MacDonald street was conveyed to Dale's Sanitarium where he will receive treatment.

Walter Decker of Main street killed a black bear while hunting at Pine Grove. The bear weighed about 250 pounds.

The Layton ambulance conveyed Mrs. Edward Juliano of Katsbaan to the Benedictine Hospital at Kingston for observation and treatment.

Again Gallagher gave chase, but gave up when a tire blew out. Gallagher went to a hospital to get his head bandaged.

The couple was not heard from again.

New Commercial Plane Record From Florida

New York, Nov. 29 (AP)—An Eastern Air Lines Constellation set a new commercial record of two hours, 56 minutes and 27 seconds on a non-stop flight last night from Miami, Fla., to Newark Airport. Eddie Rickenbacker, E.A.L. president, said today.

The four-engined plane, carrying 31 passengers and a crew of five, averaged 375 miles an hour and attained top speed of 425 miles an hour, Rickenbacker declared.

The new mark, he said, cut 11 minutes and 58 seconds from the old record, set last September, 23 by another E.A.L. Constellation. Most of last night's flight was made at an altitude of 23,000 feet.

Po'keepsie Safe City

Chicago, Nov. 29 (AP)—The National Safety Council said today the nation's traffic deaths in October totaled 2,960, two per cent lower than the 3,020 reported in October, 1946. There were 26,160 traffic fatalities the first 10 months of 1947, four per cent below the 33,700 mark of the comparable 1946 period. Poughkeepsie, N.Y., reported no traffic deaths, for the 10-month period this year.

Almost 2,000 miles of the Mississippi river are navigable.
